Outcome Analysis

Purpose:

To Ensure that Learning Outcomes (LOs) of the teaching programs offered KIMS Karad has defined Program objectives clearly stating program outcomes (POs) on the basis of course outcomes (Cos) that are in relevance with the Global, National and local needs based on the norms laid by the Regulatory councils of the various programs

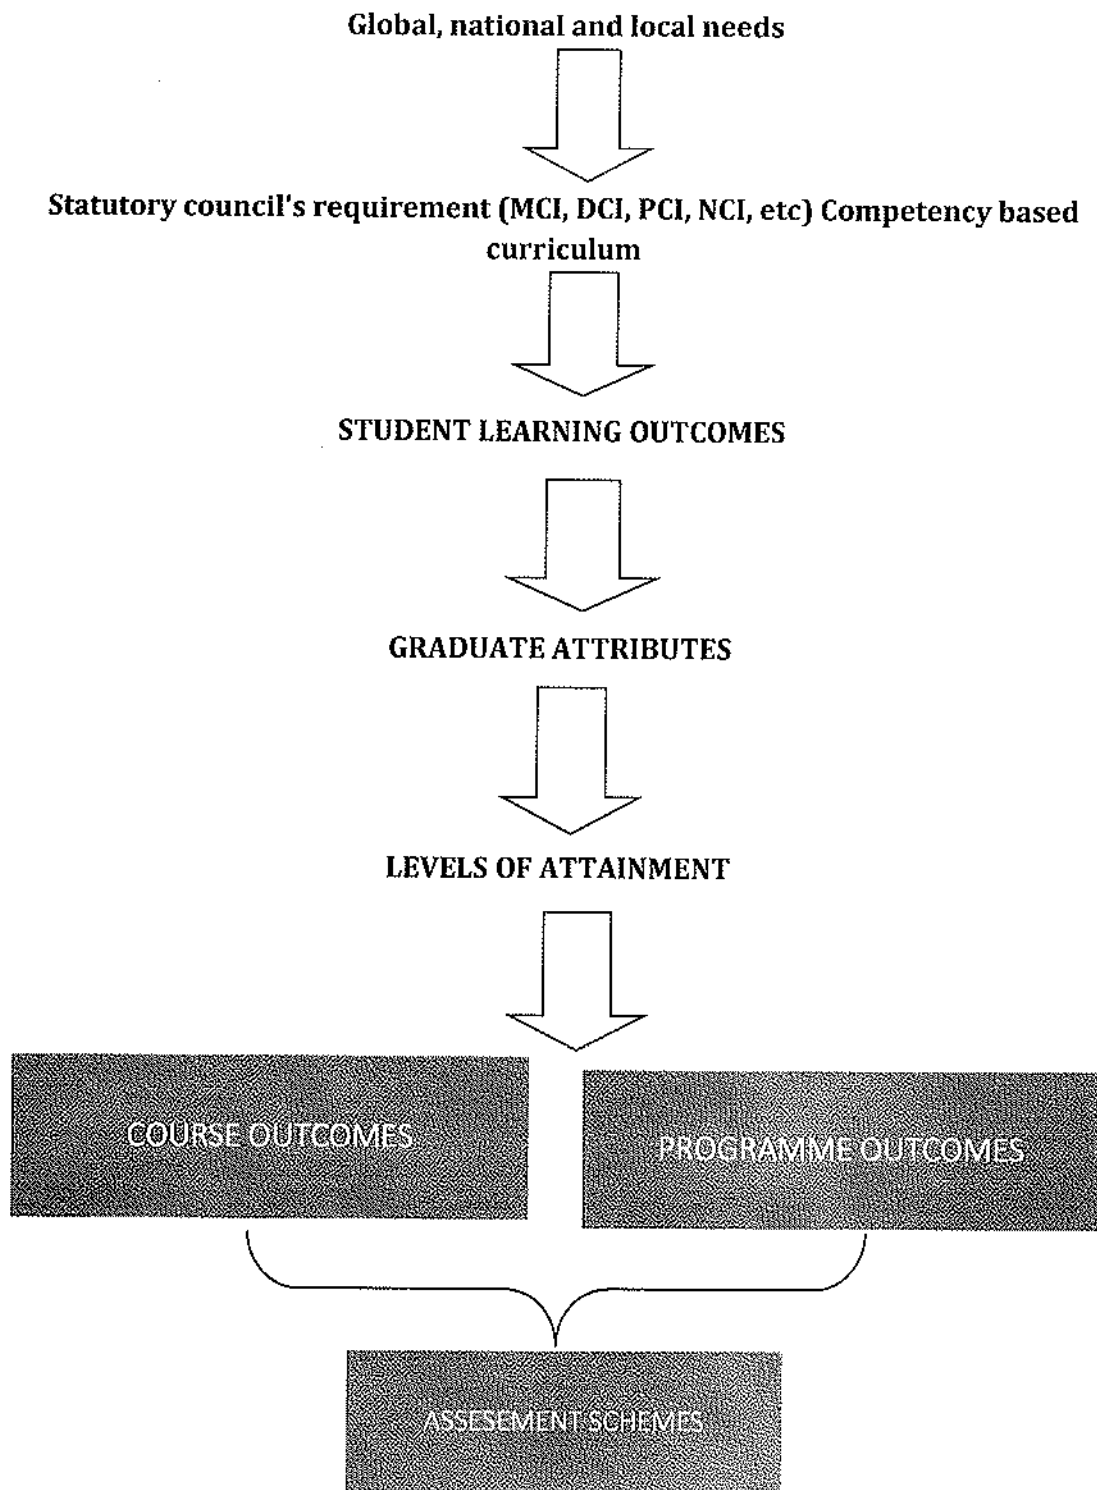

Process

1. The curricula of the programs offered have defined learning objectives program outcomes and course outcomes which is given by the BOS of the respective institutions and approved in the academic council of KIMSDU karad.
2. The course outcomes are mapped to the program outcomes
3. Programme outcomes are achieved by evaluation methods given by the statutory councils and university norms that is recommended by the BOS and approved in the Academic council
4. The institution frames an academic calendar wherein planning is done for the entire curriculum providing all the learning objectives. KIMSDU has an active IQAC cell which plays a key role in monitoring, designing and reforming the strategies related to teaching learning and assesement.
5. The learning outcomes determine the graduate attributes.
6. KIMSDU has a separate independently working MET cell which is timely engaged in training the faculty to improvise teaching learning methods
7. There is structured feedback mechanism obtained from the stakeholders like students, teachers, alumini regarding teaching learning and assesement. The feedback is analysed at the departmental and university level and the corrective measures are thereby taken.
8. The institution has formulated course outcomes to make the students enhance their learning experiences with respect to all domains of learning (Cognitive, Affective and Psychomotor domains). Accordingly, their learning assessment is conducted in form of formative at institutional level and summative at the university level.

MENTORSHIP PROGRAMME

The word mentor means a trusted advisor. Mentoring is a life long process that has a significant and meaningful role in career building and development of the mentee.

Medical students enter the medical college at a raw age in our country. This age is a formative and impressionable age. Medical students face an enormously stressful environment and this can affect their academic performance and health. In order to combat this stressful life they should have an experienced person to whom they can look for help, guidance, counseling and supervision. Good teachers have a great influence on student's personal and professional growth and development.

Mentorship Program Objectives:

- To provide outlet and solutions to students problems.
- To provide moral support for good professional and personal development of students.
- To provide a friendly and stress free atmosphere for students.

Activities:

- Review of attendance and performance of students every term.
- Helping low performers by counseling.
- Appreciation of achievements of students.
- Solving educational and other problems of students.
